Gospel Ministry

The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church at Phum (village) Krus, Kampong Chhnang, is usually bustling with activities and church programmes. The church currently has 53 adult baptised members. It holds two regular Sunday worship services with an average attendance of about 40-45. The children usually arrive earliest, waiting eagerly to start Sunday school which commences at 7.30 in the morning. These children have such lovely voices, and as a choir, they would eagerly praise in songs during the worship service. Their radiant faces and singing from the heart make one better understands why the Lord has instructed His people not to hinder the children from coming to Him ... for the Kingdom of God belongs to such as these.

Sunday morning service at Phum Krus

After the morning Sunday service, the women would come together to study the Word of God, to pray and to support one another. The youth interns, after the music camp held in April, are also eager to start a youth fellowship - to do things together and to spur one another on! These interns, under the guidance of the pastors, are making preparation for the launch. Please pray that they may grow and find joy as they seek to serve and minister to others.

The local team is also praying and exploring the possibility of screening evangelistic movies in Phum Krus and nearby villages periodically. We already have the power (generator!), but if this idea is to go ahead, there will still be a need to get other equipment (loud speakers, big screen, etc), and of course, lots of prayers and the mapping out of follow-up actions!

City Church Student Hostel Ministry

Since the hostel ministry at Phnom Penh started in February this year, LWM's City Church ministry has also been launched. There were initially only six Christians among the 20 male and 15 female university students, but in these past months, several more had prayed to receive Christ. Many do have leadership qualities and several have been prepared and lined up to serve as worship leaders. Students have also been spontaneous in sharing their testimony and/or offering a song of praise during the service. Those who are not Christians are also attracted by the songs and fellowship.

The students hope the hostel can also be a place where they can brush up their English and computer skills. Pastor Vibol and his wife, Sokry, have joined the ministry full time to serve and care for these students who have come from the provinces and are far away from home.

The Lord has blessed the hostel ministry and there are about seven other students on the waiting list for a place at the hostel. We are already checking out for another unit to be added soon in order to cater for more students. The hostel ministry is highly subsidised. It aims to reach out to students by providing them with conducive & affordable accommodation at a nominal fee of USD20 a year and USD5 a month for utilities.

Life Centre - Diakonia Ministry

Our Daily Bread Project

As part of the church's holistic mission, the Life Centre of the church reaches out to the community with a Daily Bread programme by providing a meal a day to about 50 children and several elderly people in the village. Love packs with a bag of rice, cooking oil and some dried food are also delivered regularly to some elderly folks who are too weak to come for their daily meal. The children stay back for about an hour after lunch each day for some English lessons and Bible stories.

It is not uncommon to hear of people in the community sharing about the loss of a son, daughter or sibling due to a lack of proper nutrient. As such, milk powder to poor families with infants is also part of the Centre's preventive measures to reduce infant mortality rate.

English & Computer Classes

Two computer and four English classes (children & youth) are taught at different times of the day from Tuesday to Friday. These classes are well attended though sometimes classes are affected when the pastors are away in Phnom Penh for ministry, meeting or training. The English syllabus also needs to be revamped for greater effectiveness. There is certainly a need for more professional mid-term (1-3 months) volunteers to teach English and computer at the Centre and hostel.

Project Survival

Many attended the orientation session on “bag making” at the Life Centre early this year with the hope of picking up another livelihood skill to supplement their household income. However, the idea was dropped when the fees for the trainer (from the local women support unit) and the machines cost too much. Another reason is the lack of a potential market as the local market is quite saturated with such products. Phum Krus has the reputation of being the most hardworking village in the province, but unfortunately, a whole day’s work of weaving baskets brings only a mere few cents. We pray, in some small ways, the Life Centre can have more effective income-generating projects to help some families earn enough to at least send their children to schools.

Project Shelter

There are villagers in Phum Krus who are desperately in need of both help and materials to have a basic shelter over their heads. Due to limited resources and expertise, LWM had only managed to play a small role by engaging youth volunteers to help in such occasional project. Someone from another ministry in Cambodia had once shared how, during the rainy season, some children were asking to pray that the rain would not be too heavy, for fear that their straw and attap houses would give way under the heavy downpour!

Visitors, Activities and Programmes

A Blessed Music Mission

– by Frances Chua

VocalHeart (VH), a group of volunteer musicians from Singapore went on a music mission to Lutheran World Mission's church in Kampong Chhnang, north of Phnom Penh from April 27 to May 1. The mission team of eight VocalHearts and seven supporters ran a 4-day Music & Mime Camp where five courses – keyboard, guitar, harmonica, voice, mime -- were conducted and ended with a concert by 80 trainees for their families and church members.

It was an intensive, exciting and fun camp for some 150 children and youths who received VH's donation of all musical instruments that were taught (keyboard, guitars, harmonicas, percussion instruments), media equipment (television, portable TV/DVD player) and learning aids (music CDs, sheet music) for follow-up practice on their own. They also received certificates for successfully completing the 4-day courses. There was even a 6th course -- electrical -- for non-musically inclined youths who were tested before certification.

VocalHeart was blessed with tremendous support by the seven fellow mission trippers. They had organized all travel and camp logistics, and cooked yummy snacks to feed the entire lot of more than 100 camp participants. During the morning and afternoon courses, they went to visit the neighbourhood, distributing snacks, stationery and clothing to the villagers.

Quotes

The children are a happy and positive lot! They have insatiable hunger for food, knowledge and lots of fun. They are very polite and welcoming too, singing for us when we returned from lunch and showing us their homes, their parents and grandparents, their friends and neighbours, their pets and the surroundings. -- Wong Siak Weng (IT/media manager)

My harmonica class was an exciting experience for me as well as for the trainees. Despite their lack of basic music knowledge, they worked very hard to be able to perform. I wish there are more of such opportunities available for the youths there. -- Anthony Wong (harmonica trainer)

I came, I saw, and I was blessed. It is through this trip to Cambodia that I came to realise I am truly blessed by God. Think it's time to bless others as God has blessed me. -- Low Keng Shin (mime trainer)

I'm very impressed by the trainees' determination and effort put into learning to play the keyboard. They have put up a good performance. Well Done Students! I'll always remember the times when we practiced so very hard together. -- Miki Ng (keyboard trainer)

Upon arrival at Kg Chhnang, what moved my heart was our first evening visit to the centre, we met the youths learning English in the dark under Pastor Moses! And by the third day of our course, with much practice, the youths are able to play and sing the four English songs for the concert!

And when they started playing Khmer songs from their hymn book, they sounded so nice that I was determined to learn at least one Khmer song. With the help of interpreter Rasmei, I learned the Khmer song 'Now I Know Exactly' and it kept ringing in my mind.

I am thankful for good team-mates who made the whole music camp an enjoyable one. We got to enjoy chilled sugar-cane cubes, "bubor chacha" and pancakes with local fruits away from home.

I also love to hear the children singing 'Give Me Oil in My Lamp', at the top of their voices. Just only 5 days, but I came home with a 'special' bond with Cambodia. I want to thank God for this blessed trip and, God willing, I hope to go back again. -- Annie Heng (guitar trainer)

Warm welcome and embraces greeted us everywhere we turned every single day of our sojourn at the Kampong Chhnang church, from church staff to our young trainees to their family members. We now know of a lovely and loving place in Cambodia to which we can return, any-time... -- Frances Chua (voice trainer)

今年四月底，新加坡一支爱好音乐队伍——“声乐心”，特地为柬埔寨，甘榜景南堂会主办了个音乐营。课程包括声乐，吉他，口琴，电子琴，以及一项短程电工课程，反应非常热烈，共有百多名小孩，青少年及成年人前来参加。

声乐心也慷慨的捐赠了五支新吉他，两架电子琴，以及一些音乐器材给甘榜景南堂会，还有三十支口琴和六份电工工具也

分赠给成功完成课程的学生。最后一天，导师与学生们还为会友和村民们举办了一场音乐会。导师们也为学生们的恒心与良好学习态度而感到万分的欣慰。学生们将有机会继续复习与加强所学的一切，望在不久的将来能增强堂会的主日崇拜。

Supporters from Australia and Bavaria

In early May, several supporters from Bavaria and Australia visited the new LWM Hostel Ministry in Phnom Penh which now housed 20 male and 15 female university students. After meeting and interacting with the students during the evening devotion, the group was excited and had encouraged LWM to consider expanding the ministry by taking up a third hostel unit with pledges of additional support. The additional unit will provide space for an office and also accommodation for more students as well as for short/mid-term volunteers. The group also met with the ministry team at Kampong Chhnang Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, and prayed for the ministry. We thank God for ELCB's and LCA's eager partnership and accompaniment since the inception of the ministry.

五月初，德国与澳洲信义会同时各派了两位代表前去探访世界信义宗差会在柬埔寨首都金边刚开始的大学宿舍工作（现有二十名男生与十五名女生）。

与学生们交谈后，代表们都非常兴奋的看到了这项事工的潜质，事后更积极的鼓励我们考虑再增添一间宿舍，并表示支持扩展与设备所需的费用。这将给学生们多些住宿与学习空间，也可有间办公室和供给义务短宣者的住宿。队伍过后也到甘榜景南堂会探访事工的进展与需要，与当地同工们有良好的互动并为事工代祷。感谢主与两教会给予柬埔寨事工一路来的支持与伴随。

MoU - FELM

At the Mekong Mission Forum (MMF) in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, in May this year (2011), the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Mission has also signed the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for church and ministry in Cambodia. The Evangelical Lutheran Church of Bavaria, Lutheran Church of Australia, Evangelical Lutheran Church of Hong Kong and the Chinese Rhenish Church Hong Kong had signed this same MoU in 2010.

今年五月初，芬兰差会为了支持和参

与柬埔寨事工而与世界信义差会签了服侍与合作的协议书。礼贤会香港堂，基督教香港信义会，澳洲和德国信义会也已在去年同样签了这份协议书。

Hong Kong – July 2-4

香港短宣队

A team of 24 members from the Chinese Rhenish Church HK visited the work of LWM in Kampong Chhnang and Hostel Ministry in Phnom Penh. They participated in the Sunday worship, visited the community and gave out love pack to the poor and needy. They also organized activities for the children and youth at the Centre which attracted almost 200!

Visitors ...

• Japan – July 11-14

A representative from the Japan Evangelical Lutheran Association (JELA) and a pastor of the Japan Evangelical Lutheran Church (JELC) visited the church and a neighbourhood school in Kampong Chhnang to explore the possibilities of organizing a community school project with a group of Japanese youth in February next year.

• Singapore – July 16-21

Rev Lim Kim Hock and two youths (Ken & Yuki) from Queenstown Lutheran Church, Singapore, made a special trip to visit and support the hostel ministry in Phnom Penh. They stayed near the hostel in order to spend more time to minister and reach out to the students. Ps Lim preached on Sunday and Yuki shared his testimony. Four students raised their hands to give their lives to the Lord that day. The rapport between them and the students were good as they ministered to the students in informal ways by being with them, listening, encouraging, and having a game or two with them (badminton and captain's ball).

Such informal ways of interaction seem quite effective and should be encouraged as students opened up and bonded with them quite readily.

• Australia

Peter and Kathy Niejalke were in Cambodia to conduct some English classes and worshipped with students at the hostel on July 24. Their daughter, Annika, served as English volunteer teacher at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Phum Krus for six months last year and shared a special bond with some of the youth and children there. We were blessed by the fellowship, encouragement and warmth of the Niejalkes.

Feedback and Experiences from Mid-term Volunteers

My time in Cambodia was an enriching experience. I learned to move out of my comfort zone to serve God. There were trying times where the team went without electricity, had lessons with just a paper and pen in the hand and all sorts of situations one may not experience back home. But God's hand was in everything ☺. I felt really blessed by God throughout the time there, teaching and interacting with the local children. God showed me how the people in Cambodia can be happy with the little that they have. The children were happy even with just a simple sweet. I really enjoyed teaching the children. They were very attentive in class and love to answer the questions. They are eager to learn and during Sunday school, they show their passion for God. What touched my heart was the way they worship God. They sang their hearts out. The children showed us hospitality throughout our stay and even invited some of us to their homes. It was these children that really encourage me to go into the line of early education. If God is willing, I'll really love to go back and serve there again ☺

Felicia (Youth), Queenstown Lutheran Church

I have never been to Cambodia before and all I knew about the country were stories told by my friends. I imagined Cambodia as a place of beautiful innocent children, and hearts that were open. Stepping into the Life centre at Kampong Chhnang for the first time, I was astounded by the friendliness and energy of the children. I was told to expect that life there would not be easy to adjust to because of the huge contrast in lifestyle. However, the eagerness of the children and staff to learn from us made assimilation much easier.

From the start, I was only expected to stay for two weeks. However nearing the end of my two weeks, I knew that since I had the opportunity to be there, I should stay as long as I could. Many people questioned my intentions for staying, but they are very clear. As a person, I knew I could contribute in many ways. From teaching simple English classes every day to interacting and playing with the children and visiting households, I knew that I was touching lives. You could also say that the children made it hard to leave.

I have taught in schools in Singapore for a few weeks as a relief teacher but teaching English in Cambodia is completely different. Over there, the children are so excited to learn new things even if it's as simple as "what time is it?" I remember that on the first day, a group of girls surrounded Felicia and I. Then they started singing songs like "This is the day" and "My God is so big". It brought a huge smile to my face. On other days, the children would bring us to small rivers and rice fields, and we could spend the whole afternoon out with them. It was like reliving a childhood that my parents had had in their past.

I have not once regretted this time I spent in Cambodia.

Eunice Wong (Youth), Queenstown Lutheran Church, LCS

I was ministered by:

- The love that exists among the workers there
- So happy to see the children enjoying their simple meal
- We ate the same meals as the children and staff - no VIP treatment which enabled us to touch base
- The hunger for knowledge among the youngsters - English, Computer literacy

For mission trip to be meaningful, a period of 3-4 weeks is encouraged:

- For participants to gel with the local people
- For the field workers to plan meaningful programs
- For participants to have better grasp of the "harvest" awaiting

Our Stories from Short-Term Mission

Into Every Corner (Translated from Chinese text)

Joseph Lai, Chinese Rhenish Church, HK

On that bright, sunny morning of 2nd July, 15 mission trippers from five different congregations started on our 7-days mission trip to Cambodia. All I know about Cambodia is that it is basically a war-torn country. Before the trip, I was hoping to know the country and its people through direct interaction with the locals, and through the Gospel, to let them experience God's love and healing, that the Gospel will spread among them, and through the various programmes, music and craft, to bring some sharing and joy to the people.

After a 2.5 hour flight and another 2 hours by road, we reached a rural village where most of the people are paddy farmers. The Life Centre that was started by the Lutheran Church in Singapore (LCS) was a mere 15 minutes away by van from the hotel but we had a hard time locating it because it was situated at a corner of the village. However, it was easy to identify it because it is the only building with concrete walls amidst the wooden and attap houses in the neighbourhood. The first impression I had of the Life Centre is that it is clean and neat, and that Pastor Daniel and the co-workers are all very warm. Probably because we were strangers, the children who came to the centre were all staring at us curiously. However, their innocent and adorable faces really captivated us. Just a game of throwing a beach ball back and forth is enough for us to gel and have fun like 'long-time' friends. Looking at the children, it makes one realise that to have happiness is actually quite simple. There is no need to have too much material stuff; just by being sincere and genuine to one another would itself bring happiness.

The mission Life Centre has for Kampong Chhnang is indeed of great significance. The people there are mainly farmers with little opportunity for education. Life Centre organizes some English classes for the youth and children. Proficiency in English for the young would be a great help when they pursue higher education or seek a job later. One of the programmes we had prepared was the learning of English through songs. Those who came for the sessions took it seriously, were eager to learn and treasured the opportunity to do so.

Another mission task of Life Centre is the Daily Bread project - providing a meal a day to children from poor and needy families. Due to poor nutrition, the children here are generally smaller in size compared to those from the city. As most are farmers, many would lose their means of livelihood when they are too old and weak to till the ground. Our visit to the different homes made us realize that many of the elderly people living on their own are dependent on the care and provision from Life Centre or they will go hungry.

Another important task of Life Centre is the proclamation of the Gospel and the leading of the community to Christ. The ministry team visits the homes of villagers and shares with them the Gospel through the 'wordless' book, somewhat similar to the colourful Gospel beads.

During the Sunday worship service, we got to know an elderly lady in her 60s who is staying alone. Her right eye was hurt by a bullet during the Khmer Rouge regime and her left eye was unable to open unless she pries it open whenever she needs to see. As such she is not able to work in the farm and with advancing age, she is dependent on family and friends to live on. Is there any hope for her in such a life? She heard the Gospel at Life Centre and eventually put her trust in God. From the conversation, we know she has been living each day with thankfulness in her heart – because God had preserved her life during the war and spared her from a total loss of vision, and with God providing for her through Life Centre - she has experienced fully the great love of God upon her life.

I held her hands as she shared her testimony, her tears wetting my hands but she did not stop praising the Lord. This moment was just like what the Bible says in Luke 4:18: “The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me to preach the good news to the poor.”

A short 7-day trip is limited in what we can do for the locals, but the experience makes me see the role of short term mission. Besides providing material stuff, we also provide that personal touch and care so that they know they are being loved. Even though there is a language barrier, but through a simple touch and contact, they will be able to receive the love and concern we have for them.

For missionaries who are serving there, there will be times when they are tired and lonely. The visit of short term mission trippers with their prayers and encouragement would strengthen the missionaries so that they know they are not serving alone.

The 7-day mission trip had come to an end, but we hope through our sharing, more can come to know about the local situation, the needs and the challenges of the missionaries. Through offerings, prayers and participation in mission trips, we can support missions and to bring the love of God to every corner of the world.

我和柬埔寨的‘一段情’

戴宝恩 Angela Tai (HK), 礼贤会香港堂

在七月份的柬埔寨短宣中，我们接触过儿童，也探访了大学生。在村里的儿童自然热情单纯的，我却想不到只相处了一晚上的大学生也愿意向我们交心。

我们探访的地点是首都金边的一个大学生宿舍。说来难以置信，当地使用美元，物价颇为昂贵，几乎能跟香港相比。一顿早餐能索取美金三元多。村里出了一个能上大学的孩子，自然值得高兴，但要应付城里的生活费，住宿费并不容易。这个宿舍只收取廉价费用，实在帮了他们一个大忙，使他们能尝读书的心愿。

这个宿舍住了男孩，女孩三十多人，宿位需求甚殷，只是房价不断攀升，新加坡信义会正考虑增添多一间宿舍。关于这点，请大家在祷告中纪念经济上的需要。

宿舍中有已信主的，也有未信主的，但他们大部份都会来参加周二和四的灵修小组和主日崇拜。活动当晚我们一起玩游戏，唱诗，分享大学生活，他们都很开心，投入。我相信他们的心是开放的。他们离乡背井，也希望得到别人的关心，同时透过了我们，认识这个世界，这个信仰更多。

正巧活动当天下午，我们团宣队曾参观了赤柬时代禁锢拷问无辜知识份子的一间学校 S21，我们看到了很多绝望的遗照，但同一个晚上，我们却看到这些大学生一张张活生生，充满希望的脸孔。我相信柬埔寨的黑暗时代已经过去，上帝保佑，这地方是充满希望的。

Interesting Information about Kampong Chhnang

Kampong Chhnang (Clay Pot Port), on the Tonlé Sap River, is a tale of two cities: the leafy centre, its focal point a grassy park, and the bustling dockside. Nearby sights include two floating villages and a hamlet famous for its distinctive pottery. The word "kampong" means that it is a port. Kampong Chhnang has many floating houses along its river, and the word "Chhnang" is the Khmer word for pottery
